Dear Mr. Hall,

I regret that NEVER AGAIN!, the postponing of which has never been justified, has again been delayed until, as of my last word, next March!

If I'd been able to publish it it would have been out in the first half of last year. But I'm 81, unwell, and can do nothing to compel its publication, which is comtracted for.

And as you've observed, they've done nothing to promote Case Open.

They did eliminate most of it, too.

I have a very high regard for Cyril Wecht. He is a friend.

But I've noy yet gotten around to reading his book.

Like most who are too busy, he sometimes may repeat what he hears from others who do not have it 100% straight.

But I do not say that about his book. I think I recall it from some earlier artgiles.

But he is great and he is fearless and we all owe him much.

Thanks for your good wishes,

Harold Weisberg
